The River Nile

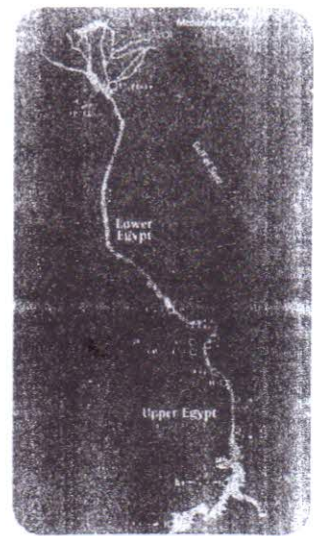

The river Nile runs through Egypt, creating a fertile green valley across the desert.

The name 'Nile' comes from the Greek neilos, which means valley. The ancient Egyptians called the river Ar (black) because of the colour of the mud left on its banks after the river's annual flood.

Egypt could not have existed without the river Nile. Since rainfall is almost nil in Egypt, the floods provided the only source of moisture to grow crops. Melting snow and heavy summer rain in the mountains caused the river to overflow on the flat desert land.

One of the oldest civilizations in the world began by its banks. The ancient Egyptians lived and farmed along the Nile. It provided water, fish, and excellent soil for growing food as well as transportation. The river was the quickest and easiest way to travel from place to place. Reeds called papyrus grew alongside of the Nile. The Egyptians made paper and boats from these reeds.

The Aswan dam built in the 1960s stopped the floods and irrigates the land.

Answer the following questions:

1. Why did the Nile flood? (1)
2. Where does the Nile flow? (1)
3. Name the dam built on this river. (1)
4. Why was the river named 'Nile' ? (2)
